Heinsburg School opens their brand-new handicap-accessible playground

Heinsburg Community School proudly showed off their newly completed, handicap-accessible playground at last Thursday's open house.

Primary teacher Connie Thompson saw the need for such a facility, researched the project and spearheaded fundraising of $33,000 in materials, labor and use of machinery to make the playground a reality. Heinsburg principal Lorne Young told the crowd who gathered to see young wheelchair-bound student Kyle Allan cut the ribbon. Young presented Mrs. Thompson with a flower-filled planter in appreciation of her efforts, and went on to relate the history of the project.

Fundraising for the playground included grants from Alberta Sports, Parks, Recreation and Wildlife and Community Facility Enhancement Program, donations, raffles and other activities. Once that was complete, a large crew of volunteers assembled on a three-day weekend to spread 80 yards of sand and erect the playground structure. They worked through wind, rain and chilly weather, and it "came together with a lot of effort," Young said. People helped with donations, use of equipment, and labor, and "we can't express enough our sincere gratitude for their help."

HEINSBURG STUDENT Kyle Allan cuts the ribbon held by Local School Council chairman Darrell Younghans and Heinsburg Community Club president Charlie Thompson to officially open the new handicap-accessible playground.

Young said this is the only handicap-accessible playground in a large area, and is "not just for the school. It's for the whole community and visitors to the area as well."

A mural on the skating rink shelter beside the new playground was created by Heinsburg students.

The open house also featured music by Heinsburg's Elementary Choir, who sang "My Favorite Things," "I've Been Working on the Railroad" and "The Addams Family" under the direction of Mrs. Sherry Garnier.

"This is what it takes to operate a school," Young said, introducing his 27-member staff, 25 of whom work daily, and all of whom are "an important part of making your child a success." He also introduced three parent volunteers, Irene Parenteau, Brenda Porter and Judy Parenteau, who are part of the school's early literacy program, and the executive of the local school council, which is chaired by Darrell Younghans.

Following the playground opening, everyone enjoyed part of a huge cake decorated with "Watch Our Children Grow" before parents and visitors toured the school and the many displays, and the youngsters were thrilled with a visit from Popcorn the Clown, who joined them in games with a parachute as well as constructing his famous balloon animals for their enjoyment.

Displays included a variety of student work, from decorat-

Council continuing to cooperate with golf club

Elk Point Golf and Country Club's newly elected president, Philip Shankowski, visited Elk Point Town Council's May 8 meeting to explore the club's relationship with the Town.

Mayor Ed Buck explained that the Golf Club pays a token rent of $1 per year, which was reduced from the original $3000 per year in order to assist the club in its upgrading program. The Town also provides the club with treated water for their clubhouse as well as 30,000 cubic meters of irrigation water for the course, at no cost. The water line to the clubhouse and fencing on the south and west sides of the course were also installed by the Town at no charge. The Town loaned the club a tractor for the past two years, but not be able to provide it this year as they will need it to cut their own grass.

The Golf Club's liability insurance is currently provided by the Town, and Mayor Buck said that means the Town is completely responsible for everything that happens there, including the golf carts and their operation. He cautioned that golf cart operators must be of an appropriate age, and also noted that all liquor consumed at the site must be obtained through the Golf Club's license.

Mayor Buck also told Shankowski that the Community Facility Enhancement grants utilized by the Golf Club in their upgrading came out of the Town's allotment.

"We have helped the Golf Club more than any other organization. Now it's built and operating, we feel they should be on their own and operate within their own scope. If they have no debt load, they should be able to do this," Shankowski told Council the Golf Club should be debt free by this fall, and hopes to become more financially secure.

Shankowski was assured that the Town plans to install a fence between the course and the soccer fields which are now under construction. A road is being constructed from beside the clubhouse into the new parking area for the soccer fields, and will also be used as the only access for the campsites and gazebo, with the previous entrance to that area blocked off in an attempt to prevent vandalism.

Sgt. Lyle Marianchuk of the Elk Point RCMP also visited Council's May meeting to give his most recent report.

The Town agreed that they would like to have a presentation on the Town of Vermilion's Canadian Fire Museum at a future meeting.

Council will send a representative to a meeting of the North Saskatchewan Watershed Alliance which is scheduled for June 7 at Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre.

Mayor Buck has declared June 21 as National Aboriginal Day in Elk Point.

Approval was given to the Elk Point Parent Nursery, who wish to conduct a Penny Carnival in conjunction with the Elk Point Auto Show.

Council ratified a motion approving a donation equal to the live assessment to be given to Van Horne Oil and Gas in exchange for two lots located adjacent to the former Pan Canadian headquarters.

Town Council agreed to look for a suitable site for a Town-operated transfer site for local waste materials.

Council awarded their hay tender to a local resident.

Ten years of Community Choir: For the joy of it!

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Tonight, at 7:30 p.m. at the Elk Point Elementary School, the Elk Point Community Choir will be performing. This choir has been singing and performing for ten years, all "for the joy of it".

They have performed in several locations around the Elk Point area, in Europe as well as on their last summer trip to the Maritimes.

Choir members are "regular" community people. They come from a number of communities around Elk Point to practice each Sunday night. Learning new songs and performing has been coming from "the heart." What this means is that some choir members are "professional musicians" while others are "developing musicians." Whichever way you look at the qualifications of each choir member, each choir member sings and performs for "the joy of it."

The Elk Point community is very fortunate to have a community choir such as this one in their midst. So, to everyone out there, if you have forgotten to pick up your tickets, you can still do so at Home Town Grocers or give Don Conrad a call at 724-3785 and he will have them waiting for you at the door. But don't miss coming to hear the Elk Point Community Choir perform tonight!

What kind of songs will they be performing? Why, some of the old favorites they have performed over the last ten years as well as some new songs. You just have to come and hear them. Don't miss their performance tonight!

Speaking of "from the heart," I would like to quote the last verse of a poem by Frank Carleton Nelson with the title: "The Heart of Man."

*"And so I claim that the heart of man
Is about what it ought to be,
For it's made of goodness through and through,
Could we look inside and see.
God made all things and He made them well,
On the true and perfect plan,
But He did His best in the greatest test
When He made the heart of man."*

When you come to hear the Elk Point Community Choir perform tonight and as you listen, we know that by the end of the evening, you will agree that as music is performed from the heart, it just can't be beat in its quality.

As Sir Thomas Moore said: "Where there is room in the heart, there is always room in the house." So come to the performance tonight, because when music is shared from the heart, and the choir performs "for the joy of it," there is room for you to listen.

Richard Nelson has been appointed as the Town's new Animal Control Officer.

The Town has designated the installation of a high pressure water line to replace the current line in the area of 56 Avenue and 50 Street, along with curb, gutter and pavement, as their project for the next Street Improvement Grant. The new line would eliminate current problems that require some residents in the area to use pumps to increase their water pressure.

The Town has purchased a 16 foot trailer to be used as the community's parade float here and in other towns in the area.

The Municipal Sponsorship 2000 grant has been earmarked for a joint project with the County of St. Paul and the Town of St. Paul to upgrade the 911 service.

GIVING YOU THE POWER

Alberta's New Electric Industry

Alberta's electric industry is changing.

Alberta's electric industry is moving from a regulated system to a competitive marketplace. This move means licensed companies may phone you or come to your door to offer you electricity services, within standards of conduct required by the Government of Alberta. You'll be able to choose the electricity retailer that offers you the best service and prices. This change will not affect the reliability of service. Power lines will continue to be owned and serviced as they are now. And your electricity will continue to be delivered, uninterrupted.

Around the world, competition is changing the way electricity is produced and sold. Competition is making the industry more customer-focused, and new ideas, products and services are being introduced. By moving to a competitive electric industry, Albertans will be in a position to take advantage of these industry innovations. And sales can be opened to the lowest-cost supplier.

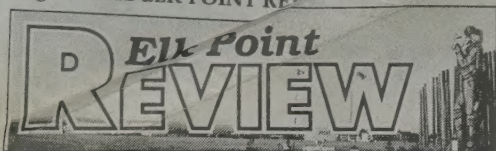

What do these changes mean to you?

The competitive retail market for electricity will gradually develop over the next few years. Later this year, some retailers may start offering you electricity packages for service beginning January 1, 2001. If you do not choose a retailer this year, your power will continue to be delivered at a regulated rate just as it is today. Home and farm consumers have up to five years to make their choice. Eligible small industrial and commercial consumers (about 85% of Alberta businesses that consume less than 250,000 kilowatt hours of electricity a year) have until 2004 to choose their electricity retailer. So shop around. You have time to make a smart, informed choice.

■ Crime Prevention Week

Crime prevention: it's in your neighborhood

The best way to keep crime out of our neighborhoods is to keep ourselves involved in crime prevention. Get to know your neighbors and discuss an effective crime prevention strategy for your community.

If you witness a crime, phone the police. Don't assume that someone else has called the police... three calls received are better than no calls at all.

Join a crime prevention organization in your area, such as:

Block Parents - Contact FCSS Deanna Easthope (780) 724-3800

C.O.P.S. - Contact Russ Hebblethwaite (780) 724-3087

Rural Crime Watch - Contact David Boorse (780) 726-2342

Oil Patch Watch - Contact Mike Meyenburg (780) 724-6000

Crime prevention - it's in your neighborhood. For more information on home security or the local organizations in the Elk Point area, contact the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at (780) 724-3964.

Crime prevention tips for seniors

Personal safety and crime prevention tips apply to all, regardless of age. However, there are some things seniors can do to further reduce the likelihood of being victimized.

In your community:

- Walk only in well lit areas.
- Do not burden yourself with packages or a bulky purse.
- Go shopping in pairs or in a group.
- Walk in the centre of the sidewalk, away from alleys and doorways.
- If you suspect you are being followed, cross the street, go to the nearest home, service station or business and call police.

In your home:

- Keep valuables in a safety deposit box at the bank. If this is not possible, keep them locked in a hiding place in your home.
- Mark valuable items for identification.
- Don't keep large amounts of cash at home.
- Get to know your neighbors.

Protect yourself from fraud:

- Always inspect the credentials of anyone who contacts you or comes to your door.
- Contact the police and your bank if anyone claiming to be a bank examiner contacts you and asks for your assistance.

- Never leave strangers unattended in your home.
- Be cautious of "just passing by" home repairmen offering repair work at a savings. Check the offer first with the Better Business Bureau or a reputable repair company.
- Never sign a contract that you have not read or do not understand.
- Before investing money get a second opinion from a spouse, friend, financial advisor or lawyer.
- Avoid suspicious contests, travel club offers, retirement estates offered "sight unseen" and telephone solicitation.

Some tips on home security

Thieves and vandals prey on people who don't take preventative measures. Are you doing what you can to protect your family, your home and your property?

At home, shrubs and trees should not create blind spots or hiding spots on your property. Walkways and landscaping should direct visitors to the proper entrance and away from private areas. Exterior doors should be visible from the street or by neighbors. Sidewalks, doorways and all areas of the yard should be well lit.

In communities, open green spaces and recreational areas should be well lit and visible from nearby homes. Lot, street and house designs should encourage interaction between neighbors, which can deter criminal activity.

Doors

All exterior doors should be of solid-core construction, 4.5 cm which with a 180 degree peephole. Door frames should also be of solid construction and have a proper security strike plate. Avoid hollow-core and glass doors. You should never open a door unless you know who is on the outside.

Glass panels: If your home has a window within one meter of an exterior door lock, replace the glass in the window with a tough, clear, unbreakable plastic that's mar resistant, or coat it with a clear, protective, unbreakable coating.

Windows

Windows pose a definite threat to home security. Install high-quality backup locks on all your windows if they can be pried open easily. There are several types of commercial window locks available to homeowners. Ask a reputable home security supplier which lock is suitable to your needs.

Another reinforcement method is "pinning." Drill a 0.5 cm hole through the inside window frame and into the outside frame. Secure the window by placing a commercial pin or a large nail through the hole. Double-hung windows and sliding aluminum windows can also be pinned.

Basement windows are a common entry point for burglars. Windows hidden by bushes or trees give intruders an ideal place to work. Replace basement windows with a tough, clear, unbreakable plastic that's mar resistant, or install decorative security bars over glass windows. (Check the building codes in your area to ensure your security bars comply). Bar windows from the inside and ensure they open easily in case of emergency. Windows that are seldom used should be permanently secured. Remove any bushes, trees or other obstructions (e.g. sheds) that hide windows from view.

Garage Doors

Some remote garage door openers are standard and open many doors. Customize your remote and opener to ensure you are the only one who can open your garage. Talk to your door's manufacturer to find out how.

Locks

A good lock is very important. The popular key-in-the-knob locks are not very effective. Install a 2.5 cm deadbolt on all exterior doors.

Patio doors are popular targets for burglars and thieves, as many of them can be lifted out of their tracks and removed. To prevent this, install metal screws in the door's upper track. These screws will fill the space above the door, preventing it from clearing the lower track. Patio doors can also be pinned like windows or locked with a commercial lock.

Don't be an easy target

Notify trusted neighbors if you plan to be away. Ask them to call police immediately if they see any suspicious activity around your home and keep news of your absence from strangers. Also ask them to change the position of curtains and blinds from time to time.

Arrange to cancel home deliveries of newspapers. Have your lawn and shrubs trimmed while you are away and use timers to control radios and interior and exterior lights.

Before you leave, lock all ladders and tools out of sight. Check and set your timing devices and lock everything securely. Make a list of all valuable items with their serial numbers. Items that don't have serial numbers should be marked with your driver's license number.

If a burglary occurs while you are away, do not enter the house - the intruder may still be there. Call the police immediately and do not touch anything until they arrive. Leaving a crime scene untouched ensures that no evidence is destroyed, giving police the clues they need to investigate the burglary and catch the criminals.

Laundry made easy at 1st Choice

Town Councillor Walter Lesyk presided at last Saturday's Grand Opening of 1st Choice Laundromat, the latest addition to Ron and Sharon Smith's Plaza 75 Mall.

Grand Opening guests were treated to hot dogs and a selection of salads before taking a tour of the handsome new premises. Ron barbecued a total of 20 dozen hot dogs, which is an indication of the great turnout for the event.

The new facility takes the effort and the guesswork out of laundry, with the latest Maytag equipment to take care of all your wash, from a quartet of single load conventional washers to a pair of massive triple loaders with 35 pound capacity, that take washing a king sized comforter or a huge pair of drapes in their stride. Both sizes have dryers to match. In between are eight great new double loaders, stacked with their own dryers. The pairs are "so quiet you almost have to put your ear to them to see if they're working," Sharon says. Two of these sets are earmarked for oily clothes, but constant surveillance by attendant Carol Henry, who gives them a quick wipe with a very effective cleaner when needed, makes these units available for other wash as well.

The double loaders have "suds sensors," Sharon notes, which sends in an extra rinse if needed. These machines also have dispensers for liquid bleach and fabric softener, and are all computer controlled.

The new laundromat is located just across the hall from Home Town Grocers, and next door to Footprints. Security cameras in the laundromat enable customers to keep an eye on their laundry-in-progress while they enjoy a snack. Each area of the laundromat has its own folding table, and the facility enjoys a constant flow of fresh air from an air exchanger which turns on when the dryers start up.

1st Choice also offers a drop-off service for those with no time for laundry, with one day service if laundry is brought in early in the day. If you run out of time while doing laundry, "we'll even fold for you," Sharon says.

The Smiths are "pleased with the community support" of their newest venture, and hope "we can continue to offer the service you need."

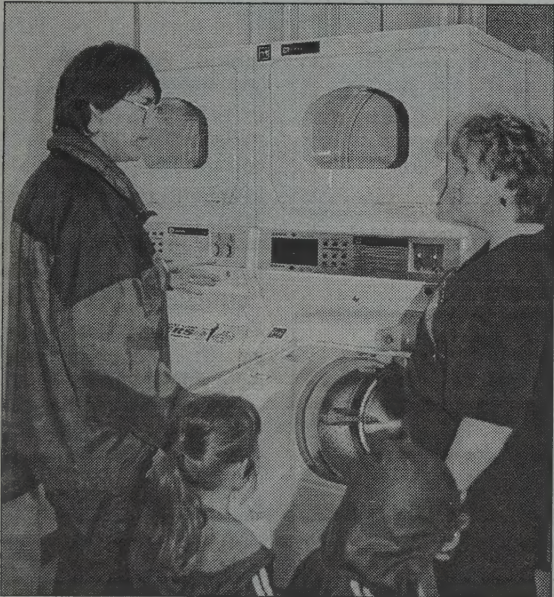

Door prizes went to Sylvia Ballas (Home Town gift certificate), Walter Lesyk (Bear Den membership), Melissa Desilva, Ida Johns, Jonathan Tanchuk, Kristin Campbell, Sue Desilva, Joanne Amyotte, Paul Musijowski, Lena Stepa, Kaitlyn Roberts, Crystal Jacobson, Kelly Oszust and Dylon Loughran (laundry bags), Helen Trach (elephant), Sue Campbell and Cody Millions (Wayne Gretzky cups), Denise Dreilick (Coke shirt); Sadie Christensen (director's chair), Dave Desilva and Elsie Oryschuk (laundry hampers), and Richard Nelson (bike).

WALTER LESYK snipped the ribbon to officially open Ron and Sharon Smith's 1st Choice Laundromat.

"We had a great time," Sharon says in retrospect, "and we hope everyone else did too. Thank you, everyone, for coming."

STACKED LAUNDRY PAIRS are proudly shown off by Sharon Smith, who explains their use to a patron.

Tips on crime prevention for business security

■ All entrances should be under visual surveillance or monitored electronically.

Management tips

■ Business hours should coincide with those of neighboring businesses.

■ Pay phones should be call-out only and placed in a visible location.

■ Nighttime employees should have access to safe, visible parking that is close to the entrance.

■ Adopt a cash limit (e.g. $50). Train employees to check regularly for cash over the limit and place it in a "drop safe" that the clerk cannot open. Post a sign: "Maximum cash in register $50."

■ If it's not possible to have a safe, don't place large bills under the cash register - find a safe alternate hiding place.

■ Train employees to be alert for suspicious persons.

■ Parked cars and telephone booths are common outdoor observation spots for watching a business.

■ Watch for customers who seem to be loitering or glancing around the store while shopping or browsing a magazine, or who seem nervous or rushed.

■ Check all doors and windows routinely at closing time.

■ Check references. A number of armed robberies involve former employees, so be certain to screen applicants carefully. You may wish to take a snapshot of each new employee to post as an introductory welcome and later keep in the personnel file.

■ Try to have two staff on hand at opening and closing times; this is an attractive time for robbers.

■ Storage rooms: install locks that can be opened from the inside and keep an extra key inside. Robbers sometimes lock employees in storage rooms. If you have an alarm system, consider installing a button in the back room.

Check out Oprah's Book Club List at the library

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

Interested in Oprah's latest or previous books? We now have the Oprah's Book Club List as well as the New York Times Bestseller list for your viewing. The library should have most of the titles available. It's worth checking out!

New Books

The latest Oprah pick is The Blues Eye by Toni Morrison, winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature. It is the story of an 11-year-old black girl in America whose love for blond, blue eyed children leads her to pray for her eyes to turn blue so that she will be beautiful. Also from the best-seller list: Danielle Steel's The Wedding... Sandra Brown's Standoff... Mary Higgins Clark's Before I Say Goodbye... and Catherine Cookson's Riley.

New computer

The library has been approved for another patron accessible computer, and I'm anxiously awaiting the details of when it will be arriving. This will hopefully alleviate some of the congestion that occurs with just one computer. I thank you for your patience.

Important Reminder

Anyone interested in purchasing discarded library books or magazines may drop in at the library and check out our used books. The following is a list of prices: Hardcover - $.50, Paperbacks - $.25, Magazines - $.10. These books are available anytime although we will also be selling them at our book sale, June 3.

OBITUARY

VERHAGEN, Louis "Little Fidler"

Louis Verhagen passed away at the age of 69 years in Edmonton on Friday, May 12, 2000.

Louis was born on January 10, 1931, in Hengelo, (O), The Netherlands, to Adriaan Verhagen and Beryl Austin Quick Verhagen. His brothers and sisters were: Ellen Verhagen Plate, Huibrecht Adriaan Verhagen, Elisabeth Beryl (Betty) Verhagen van der Weele, Willem (Wim) Alexander Verhagen and Erik George Verhagen. He was predeceased by his parents, Adriaan and Beryl Verhagen; 1 brother, Erik Verhagen; and his second wife, Marilyn Patience Williams Verhagen on September 11, 1986.

In August 1952, Louis emigrated to Canada from the Netherlands. He found work as a Laboratory Technician in Montreal with the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery Ltd. (later called Atlantic Sugar). He stayed with this company 25 years advancing to the position of Chief Chemist. In 1977, Louis went to work for the Canadian Salt Company Ltd. as the Quality Assurance Manager in Montreal. In 1983, Louis moved with this company to Mississauga, Ontario. In March of 1987, Louis, as a qualified chemist, was transferred to Windsor Salt in Elk Point. Louis retired in July of 1997. Soon after his retirement, Louis developed emphysema. During the last few years of his life, he lived at Parkview Extended Care in Elk Point. During his illness, a special caregiver, Gene Russell, took care of his daily requests.

His years in Elk Point were spent on his gardening and an enduring interest, being an alderman on the Elk Point Town Council, becoming "Louis Little Fidler Verhagen" to the Peter Fidler genealogy and is now Past President of the Royal Canadian Legion Elk Point Branch #151.

United Church news

THIS SUNDAY, May 21: The lectionary readings for this Sunday are: Acts 8:26-40; Psalm 22:25-31; 1 John 4:7-21; John 15: 1-9. In this gospel reading Jesus tells his disciples that his message comes from God and through it connects them with God.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK: So Jesus cried aloud; "When a man believes in me, he believes in him who sent me rather than in me; seeing me, he sees him who sent me. I have come into the world as light, so that no one who has faith in me should remain in darkness." John 12:44-46

It's almost always guaranteed to rain when ball season starts. This past week, just like every other year, there were a few games canceled due to the rain, but almost all of the teams played at least one game, with the exception of the Midget Boys.

The Bantam Girls were in Cold Lake on Monday night. Three up and three down for Dewberry product Danelle Gardiner and an in-the-park homer for Dana Yaremkevich. Next home action will be on Wednesday night when they host St. Paul.

The Pee wee Girls played against St. Paul on Monday night. Valerie Friesen smacked a real nice hit and almost had a home run, but was tagged out at home plate. Pam Ballas has volunteered to coach the second Pee wee team that was formed when the Pee wees found themselves with enough players for two teams.

And more good news - there was a surge of Rookie players, so they have also now split into two teams, with Gary Marcenik and staff coaching one, and Lorn Berg and company coaching another.

The Bantam Boys played in Bonnyville on Thursday night in their first action, winning 15 to 12. Solid pitching by Isaac Peters and Mark Letestu. The Bantam boys, coached by Jacques deMoissac and Aaron Hansen, are home on Wednesday night when they host St. Paul.

The Midget Girls put up a good effort on Monday night, playing in their first action, losing to St. Paul. On Wednesday, their game in Cold Lake was canceled due to the rain.

The Squirt Girls coached by a softball veteran of many years, Wanda Cochrane, had their first effort on Monday night, and saw some good first year pitching by Brianna Buryn, Cassa Cochrane and Ashley Murfin.

And last of all, the Mite Girls should see some action this week. They also have some real solid coaching by another veteran, the president of Minor Ball, Laverne Wilson.
